

Greg Rogers has served as senior pastor at Oakmont Baptist Church in Greenville, North Carolina for 32 years. He has coached individuals and groups to identify personal, professional, and ministry challenges and learning gaps, and move them from possibilities to action. He understands from being coached personally, having his congregation coached, and now coaching others how powerful and pertinent questions and listening can create always present solutions that previously were not seen or named. He has worked with individuals and teams exploring mission, vision, and core values, as well as spiritual formation, missional engagement, ministry and work transitions, and personal issues. He brings his own spiritual and pastoral experiences in congregational ministry as resources to the coaching relationship. Greg is a CBFNC certified coach, an Associate Certified Coach (ACC) with the International Coach Federation (ICF), and a certified High Performance Patterns coach. A graduate of N.C. State University with a degree in philosophy and religion, Greg also holds the Master of Divinity and Doctor of Ministry degrees from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.
